BITTER ARGUMENT WAGED OVER INJUNCTION

ATTORNEYS FOR UNIONS ASSAIL DAUGHERTY WRIT AS UNCONSTITUTIONAL

Huge Corps of Government Lawyers Headed by Attorney General Daugherty Uphold Writ and Plead with Court to Make Order Permanent

Donald Richberg, Union Representative, Urges the Court to Inquire Into the Private Interests Which May Be Behind the Suit

By United Press

Chicago, Sept. 11.—Bitter argument over the Daugherty injunction against the railroad shopmen's strike was waged throughout the day in federal court today.

Attorneys for unions bitterly attacked and denounced the writ as an unlawful, and unconstitutional assumption of illegal power by the courts.

A huge corps of government lawyers headed by Attorney General Harry M. Daugherty upheld the writ and pleaded with Judge James H. Wilkerson to make the sweeping order permanent.

The court was urged to inquire into the private interests which may be behind the suit by Donald Richberg, union representative.

Richberg quoted many legal decisions showing instances where suits brought under the name of the government were found to be backed by outside influences upon seaching court inquiry.

When court recessed at 1 p. m. Richberg stated that it would take him another hour to finish citing legal opinions which he had ready to support his contention that the injunction should be dissolved.

Following arguments, the government attorneys had long arguments prepared, which may take days to finish. They also had great storerooms filled with evidence which they desire to present to the court.

As the great battle was waged, the policy committee of the shopcrafts unions went into session again this afternoon to discuss proposals for settlement of the strike with individual railroads. The morning meeting was adjourned immediately after being called.

Wants "Disinterested Board"

Washington, Sept. 11.—The railroad labor board would be abolished and in its place a "disinterested" board would be set up to handle controversies between the railroad executives and employes under the bill introduced today by Representative Hoch, of Kansas, a republican.

Hoch, a member of the house interstate commerce committee, who handled the industrial legislation recommended by President Harding, declared in a statement that passage of these measures would aid in a permanent solution of the railroad problem.

The board which Hoch would have to replace the railroad labor board would consist of five public representatives appointed by the president at salaries of $7,500 a year.

The board now is composed of equal numbers of representatives of the executives, labor and the public.

Wants to Impeach Daugherty

Washington, Sept. 11—Impeachment proceedings against Attorney General Harry M. Daugherty were begun in the house today by Representative Keller, of Minnesota.

Keller, republican, filed with the house an indictment of Daugherty containing seven counts and introduced the resolution for investigation and report by the judiciary committee as to whether Daugherty should be tried before the senate sitting as a high court of impeachment on the charges that Daugherty overrode the constitution, abused his authority, and degraded his office by his action in obtaining from the federal court in Chicago the drastic injunction against rail strikers.

The Minnesota representative also accused Daugherty of favoritism toward "wealthy criminals."

Impeachment Proceedings Frustrated

Washington, Sept. 11.—A movement to begin impeachment proceedings against Attorney General Daugherty was frustrated by republican leaders in the house today before it was fully under way.

A resolution demanding the institution of formal impeachment proceedings against Daugherty was introduced by Representative Keller, of Minnesota.

Harrassed by several objections, Keller was forced to read his charges first and then present his resolution. When he asked adoption of the resolution, Republican Speaker Gillett held that he had automatically released the floor and prevented him from continuing with his speech.

Republican Leader Mondell then moved that Keller's impeachment resolution be referred to the house judiciary committee, claiming this was the formal procedure. The resolution is certain to be killed speedily or allowed to die on account of the action by the committee, where an administration majority holds sway, it was said.

Gompers Assails Daugherty

Atlantic City, N. J., Sept. 11.—Samuel Gompers bitterly assailed Attorney General Daugherty today and attacked Federal Judge Wilkerson, Chicago, who granted Daugherty's request for a temporary injunction against the striking railroad shop workers, as a "Daugherty pet."

Gompers, president of the A. F. of L., opened the convention of the International Typographical Union.

"Despite the injunction for which Daugherty and his pet, Judge Wilkerson, are responsible," said Gompers, "the shopmen's strike is more effective now than since it was inaugurated several months ago." Prolonged hissing greeted the mention of Daugherty's name.

Byram Predicts Part Rail Peace

Chicago, Sept. 11.—Prediction that 15 per cent of the 400,000 striking railroad shopmen would be back at work within 24 hours after the meeting of the union policy committee here today unless the unions make an unexpected bolt from the leadership of Bert M. Jewell, was predicted by H. E. Byram, president of the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul railroad.

Byram, with Daniel Willard, president of the Baltimore & Ohio, has been the leading influence back of the negotiations between the railroads and union heads looking toward separate agreement between the workmen and the individual lines.

"It only needed some one trusted by both sides to act as a mediator and Mr. Willard generously gave his time and ability to the matter."

That the separate agreement plan is already in practice between the rail-

Peace Again Reigns in Hard Coal Fields

CLEMENCEAU WILL ASK AMERICA TO STAND SHOULDER TO SHOULDER WITH FRANCE AND ENGLAND TO GAIN PEACE

(Copyright 1922 by United Press.)

Paris, Sept. 11.—Clemenceau is going to the United States to tell Americans why they should stand shoulder to shoulder with France and England to finish the task of establishing permanent world peace.

The old tiger of France, who has been in virtual seclusion since retirement from politics two years ago, made this declaration in a telegram to the United Press. He will make four speeches in America this year, according to present plans. Clemenceau's telegram follows:

"I consider that America magnificently accomplished all her duties of solidarity during the war, but in peace, which is the goal of war, the duties of solidarity of each party are not exhausted by arrangement of conditions whereby one of the parties may stand aside. I believe that if the solidarity had been maintained between America, France and England, then the present crisis would have been avoided. It cannot be solved without participation in America of that solidarity. I am disposed to go and express myself on this in America before the end of the year." Signed Clemenceau.

Announcement of the opinion of Clemenceau of the attitude of the United States was elicited by the statement of Rudyard Kipling, famous English poet, who severly criticized America for "entering the war too late and quitting too early."

He makes plain he does not agree with Kipling, but believes the United States should resume its war partnership with Great Britain and France for the purpose of world peace and a stable foundation.

Dying Father's Murder Charge Will Be Denied

Minneapolis, Sept. 11—Prepared to deny the deathbed accusation of his father, which charged him with murder, G. Delbert Guyette was enroute to Minneapolis from Seattle, today, in custody of Detective Fritz Ohman of the Minneapolis department. The father, dying at the Minnesota Soldiers' home, said his son was implicated in the murder of Joseph Briening, who was shot Jan. 29, 1916, in his butcher shop at 116 Lyndale avenue N. Mrs. Guyette is accompanying her husband and told Seattle authorities he was home taking a bath at the time Breining was shot. A man arrested four months after Breining's death is serving a life sentence at Stillwater penitentiary for murder.

Tearfully Protests Innocence

Tearfully protesting his innocence and insisting he is the victim of a terrible mistake, Mrs. G. Delbert Guyette is on her way to Minneapolis from Seattle with her husband, who faces a charge of murder.

Guyette is being returned in custody of Detective Fritz Ohman, who was sent to Seattle following the dying statement of the prisoner's father, Alfred J. Guyette, age 73, in the hospital at the Minnesota Soldiers' home. The veteran is alleged to have said his son was implicated in the killing of Joseph Breining, who was shot to death in his butcher shop in a holdup. The elder Guyette is reported to have made this statement to ease his conscience in his final hour. He died Sept. 2.

Claims Alibi for Husband

John Radich, arrested after the murder, is serving a life term in Stillwater.

Dispatches from Seattle told of Mrs. Guyette's departure for Minneapolis with her husband and of her determination to fight to clear him of the murder charge. They have one child, June Guyette, aged five.

'They'll never convict Del," sobbed Mrs. Guyette. "It's a mistake, a fearful mistake. Why the night Joe Breining was murdered my husband was in the bathroom. I remember yet—Albert, Joe's boy, came tumbling upstairs to tell us that Joe had been shot. And where was my husband? Right in our bathroom. I pounded on the door. 'Del,' I shouted, 'Del, come quick. Joe's been murdered.' And Del jumped into his clothes and went downstairs to help the detectives. I hurried to comfort Joe's wife. And now they say Del murdered him.

"Haven't Tried to Hide"

"He's innocent. Why, we were married two years before Joe was killed and have been in Seattle two years. Our name is in the directory. We haven't tried to hide anything. And they say Del's father made a deathbed confesison. It's a lie. They're plumb crazy. As if I haven't had trouble enough. Father was killed in railway accident and mother was burned to death. And now they want to take away Del. They won't do it, they won't—they won't."

"I knew Breining, in fact, we were good friends," he told the Seattle police, according to dispatches. "One night his little butcher shop, located a block from where he lived, was held up. Later it was robbed. Breining got word it was to be held up again. He told me about it and I agreed to sit up and watch the place with him. We did this several nights but no one came. One night as I was in the bathtub, Joe, the butcher's boy, came running up to my place and told my wife Breining had been shot. I dressed and went down.

"As I recall the story, two men entered the place that night and told Breining to hold up his hands. He grappled with one, trying to shove him against the other man. The other man shot him, the bullet going through his partner's hand before it struck Breining.

"A man later was arested in Superior, Wis., for the crime and found guilty. He told the police he did not know who his partner was. I am willilng to return as I know I can prove my innocence.

155,000 MEN GO BACK TO WORK ON MONDAY MORNING

HARD COAL "SUSPENSION" ENDS AT TRI-STATE CONVENTION HELD SATURDAY

CONTINUES OLD WAGE SCALE THAT WAS IN EFFECT ON MARCH 31, 1922

FORMALLY SIGN AGREEMENT

Scranton, Pa., Sept. 11.—Anthracite miners and operators formally signed the agreement ending the hard coal strike at 12:05 this afternoon. Mines will begin reopening at once, it was said.

Wilkes-Barre, Pa., Sept. 11.—One hundred and fifty-five thousand anthracite miners went back to work when the whistle blew Monday morning.

The hard coal "suspension" was ended Saturday night when the tri-district convention voted unanimously to ratify the report of the scale committee, accepting the settlement reached a week ago by operators and United Mine Workers officials at Philadelphia.

As soon as word went out through the anthracite district that the settlement, proposed by Senator G. W. Pepper and David Reed, had been ratified, preparations were rushed to reopen collieries. Some started Sunday, while most of them resumed Monday morning.

Delegates who had bitterly attacked the agreement announced they would accept ratification and support the union leaders.

The new agreement which will be signed on Monday by operators and union leaders, includes continuation of wages that were in effect on March 31, 1922, demands production of coal to begin at once and makes recommendations that a fact finding committee be appointed by congress to investigate the industry.

President Lewis made an eloquent address, pleading with the delegates to accept the agremeent. At the conclusion of his remarks he burst into tears and was forced to leave the platform.

Delegate Matti, of Hazelton, moved that the convention by acclamation ratify the new agreement.

A vote was taken and a few "noes" were heard.

Enoch Williams, secretary-treasurer of District No. 1, who led the opposition fight against acceptance, moved that the ratification be made unanimous and the delegates so voted.

Numerous coal companies moved mules into the mines Saturday and the mines are in good condition to resume work at once.

Coal Gouging Charged

St. Paul, Sept. 11.—Complaints of coal price gouging were received at the state capitol this morning from the Village of Buhl.

In a communication to Ivan Bowen, state fuel administrator, the village council declared the Hanna Coal company is charging $8 f. o. b. Superior for coal which a year ago cost $4.

PAULINE FREDERICK CUT OFF IN WILL

(By United Press.)

Chicago, Sept. 11.—Pauline Frederick, stage and screen star, was cut off in her fahter's will without a cent.

The father, Richard Libby, leaves an estate valued at $50,000.

"Loyalty to my mother, who was divorced, is probably the cause of the action," Miss Fredreick said here today. "I am surprised he had an estate anyhow. He was always an awful spendthrift."

GERMANS ON FOOD RATIONS

MIDDLE CLASSES MEAT ONCE A MONTH DURING THE WINTER

WORKING CLASSES TO HAVE MEAT ONCE EACH WEEK

(Copyright 1922 by United Press.)

Berlin, Sept. 11.—The middle classes in Germany will have their meat but once a month this winter, Food Administrator Anton Fehr declared today in an exclusive interview with the United Press.

His country, he declared, faces serious food shortages in which hunger riots will be backed by the deadlier peril of monarchist or communist uprisings.

The working classes will be better off than the "white collar" class, Fehr said, and probably will obtain meat once a week. All classes, even the wealthy, will feel the pinch however, for the fall of the mark, failure of the grain crop and breakdown of reparations agreements are said to be reflected in lack of food.

CONTINUED IMPROVEMENT IN CONDITION OF MRS. HARDING

ATTEDING PHYSICIANS AGREE TO POSTPONE ANY OPERATION, STATEMENT SAYS

IF OPERATION NECESSARY, IT WILL BE PERFORMED BY DR. CHARLES MAYO

(By United Press.)

Washington, Sept. 11.—Continued improvement in the condition of Mrs. Harding has led attending physicians to postpone any operation, an official bulletin issued today said.

The bulletin issued by Brigadier General Sawyer at 10:15 a. m. stated: "Temperature 99.5 degrees, pulse 96, respiration 30. Night less restless. Elimination increased. Complications subsiding. General appearances indicate improvement. Operation procedure deferred." Signed C. H. Sawyer.

The phrase "elimination increased" referred to Mrs. Harding's increased ability to throw off effects of the poison, and prevent further auto intoxication.

Intended Operation Explained

Washington, Sept. 11.—The surgical operation which Mrs. Harding may have to undergo if her physicians decide that nothing else will save her life, is in itself a simple one, doctors said.

It consists of allowing the kidneys to drain off accumulated poison. If an operation is decided on, Dr. Charles Mayo, of Rochester, will personally perform it. What makes the operation dangerous in Mrs. Harding's case, it was explained, is her weakened condition due to prolonger illness.

FROM RED HOT TO FREEZING POINT

(By United Press.)

St. Paul, Sept. 11.—From 96 above last Wednesday to freezing temperature today, was a considerable change, the weather man agreed.

Light frosts were recorded throughout northern Minnesota and Wisconsin last night, and there was heavy frost in a few low places where skims of ice appeared.

The lowest official temparature recorded was 30 at Duluth, Warsaw and Moorhead. At Moorhead there was a light rain. The temperature dropped to 42 in St. Paul last night.

Low point at Brainerd Sunday night was 34.

DRY HOT WEATHER REDUCES CORN AND POTATO CROP HERE

MINNESOTA CORN CROP IS LOWERED 7,000,000 BUSHELS, REPORTED

FORECASTED POTATO CROP SUFFERS DIMINUTION OF 3,000,000 BUSHELS

(By United Press.)

St. Paul, Sept. 11.—Dry hot weather of the last four weeks reduced the estimated corn crop in Minnesota by 7,000,000 bushels, and cut the forecasted potato crop nearly 3,000,000 bushels.

At the same time increases were shown in forecasted production of spring wheat, oats, barley and flax.

While the drought brought huge decreases in the production of corn and potatoes, the yield of potatoes will be larger than last year, but corn will be 28,000,000 less than last year.

The September crop report of Paul H. Kirk, Minnesota statistician, expresses no alarm over the decreased production.

Due to the continued dry weather during August, the condition of corn on September 1 was 75 per cent of normal, compared with 83 per cent on August 1.

The report states the forecast production is 112,027,000 bushels, compared with 140,507,000 bushels in 1921, and a five year average of 106,664,000 bushels.

The early crop of potatoes will be very much better than in 1921 by the condition on September 1 which is 72 per cent or normal, indicating a production of 38,105,000 bushels compared with 27,525,000 bushels last year, and a five year average of 29,000,000 bushels.

The condition of spring wheat is 80 per cent of normal, indicating a production of 32,629,000 bushels compared with 23,655,000 bushels last year, and a five year average of 42,281,000 bushels.

Based on a condition of 89 per cent, the forecast production was 142,015,000 bushels of oats, indicating Minnesota will produce one of her best crops. The 1921 final estimate was 94,176,000 bushels, while the five year average was 116,950,000 bushels.

The condition of barley is 86 per cent of normal, indicating the crop of 23,240,000 bushels compared with 17,720,000 bushels in 1921, and a five year average of 27,901,000 bushels.

Buckwheat was hurt by the dry weather, and the condition is 72 per cent of normal, indicating a crop of 468,000,000 bushels, only slightly better than last year.

The flax crop will be above the average, the condition being 80 per cent of normal, indicating a crop of 2,904,000 bushels compared with 2,726,000 bushels last year and an average for five years of 2,450,000 bushels.

BITTER ARGUMENT WAGED OVER INJUNCTION

ATTORNEYS FOR UNIONS ASSAIL DAUGHERTY WRIT AS UNCONSTITUTIONAL

Huge Corps of Government Lawyers Headed by Attorney General Daugherty Uphold Writ and Plead with Court to Make Order Permanent

Donald Richberg, Union Representative, Urges the Court to Inquire Into the Private Interests Which May Be Behind the Suit

By United Press

Chicago, Sept. 11.—Bitter argument over the Daugherty injunction against the railroad shopmen's strike was waged throughout the day in federal court today.

Attorneys for unions bitterly attacked and denounced the writ as an unlawful, and unconstitutional assumption of illegal power by the courts.

A huge corps of government lawyers headed by Attorney General Harry M. Daugherty upheld the writ and pleaded with Judge James H. Wilkerson to make the sweeping order permanent.

The Minnesota representative also accused Daugherty of favoritism toward "wealthy criminals."

Republican Leader Mondell then moved that Keller's impeachment resolution be referred to the house judiciary committee, claiming this was the formal procedure. The resolution is certain to be killed speedily or allowed to die on account of the action by the committee, where an administration majority holds sway, it was said.

Gompers Assails Daugherty

Atlantic City, N. J., Sept. 11.—Samuel Gompers bitterly assailed Attorney General Daugherty today and attacked Federal Judge Wilkerson, Chicago, who granted Daugherty's request for a temporary injunction against the striking railroad shop workers, as a "Daugherty pet."

Gompers, president of the A. F. of L., opened the convention of the International Typographical Union.

"Despite the injunction for which Daugherty and his pet, Judge Wilkerson, are responsible," said Gompers, "the shopmen's strike is more effective now than since it was inaugurated several months ago." Prolonged hissing greeted the mention of Daugherty's name.

Scranton, Pa., Sept. 11.—Anthracite miners and operators formally signed the agreement ending the hard coal strike at 12:05 this afternoon. Mines will begin reopening at once, it was said.

Wilkes-Barre, Pa., Sept. 11.—One hundred and fifty-five thousand anthracite miners went back to work when the whistle blew Monday morning.

The hard coal "suspension" was ended Saturday night when the tri-district convention voted unanimously to ratify the report of the scale committee, accepting the settlement reached a week ago by operators and United Mine Workers officials at Philadelphia.

As soon as word went out through the anthracite district that the settlement, proposed by Senator G. W. Pepper and David Reed, had been ratified, preparations were rushed to reopen collieries. Some started Sunday, while most of them resumed Monday morning.

Delegates who had bitterly attacked the agreement announced they would accept ratification and support the union leaders.

The new agreement which will be sgned on Monday by operators and union leaders, includes continuation of wages that were in effect on March 31, 1922, demands production of coal to begin at once and makes recommendations that a fact finding committee be appointed by congress to investigate the industry.

President Lewis made an eloquent address, pleading with the delegates to accept the agremeent. At the conclusion of his remarks he burst into tears and was forced to leave the platform.

Delegate Matti, of Hazelton, moved that the convention by acclamation ratify the new agreement.

A vote was taken and a few "noes" were heard.

Enoch Williams, secretary-treasurer of District No. 1, who led the opposition fight against acceptance, moved that the ratification be made unanimous and the delegates so voted.

Numerous coal companies moved mules into the mines Saturday and the mines are in good condition to resume work at once.

Coal Gouging Charged

St. Paul, Sept. 11.—Complaints of coal price gouging were received at the state capitol this morning from the Village of Buhl.

In a communication to Ivan Bowen, state fuel administrator, the village council declared the Hanna Coal company is charging $8 f. o. b. Superior for coal which a year ago cost $4.

PAULINE FREDERICK CUT OFF IN WILL

(By United Press.)

Chicago, Sept. 11.—Pauline Frederick, stage and screen star, was cut off in her fahter's will without a cent.

The father, Richard Libby, leaves an estate valued at $50,000.

"Loyalty to my mother, who was divorced, is probably the cause of the action," Miss Fredreick said here today. "I am surprised he had an estate anyhow. He was always an awful spendthrift."

GERMANS ON FOOD RATIONS

MIDDLE CLASSES MEAT ONCE A MONTH DURING THE WINTER

WORKING CLASSES TO HAVE MEAT ONCE EACH WEEK

(Copyright 1922 by United Press.)

Berlin, Sept. 11.—The middle classes in Germany will have their meat but once a month this winter, Food Administrator Anton Fehr declared today in an exclusive interview with the United Press.

His country, he declared, faces serious food shortages in which hunger riots will be backed by the deadlier peril of monarchist or communist uprisings.

The working classes will be better off than the "white collar" class, Fehr said, and probably will obtain meat once a week. All classes, even the wealthy, will feel the pinch however, for the fall of the mark, failure of the grain crop and breakdown of reparations agreements are said to be reflected in lack of food.

ATTEDING PHYSICIANS AGREE TO POSTPONE ANY OPERATION, STATEMENT SAYS

IF OPERATION NECESSARY, IT WILL BE PERFORMED BY DR. CHARLES MAYO

(By United Press.)

Washington, Sept. 11.—Continued improvement in the condition of Mrs. Harding has led attending physicians to postpone any operation, an official bulletin issued today said.

The bulletin issued by Brigadier General Sawyer at 10:15 a. m. stated: "Temperature 99.5 degrees, pulse 96, respiration 30. Night less restless. Elimination increased. Complications subsiding. General appearances indicate improvement. Operation procedure deferred." Signed C. H. Sawyer.

The phrase "elimination increased" referred to Mrs. Harding's increased ability to throw off effects of the poison, and prevent further auto intoxication.

Intended Operation Explained

Washington, Sept. 11.—The surgical operation which Mrs. Harding may have to undergo if her physicians decide that nothing else will save her life, is in itself a simple one, doctors said.

It consists of allowing the kidneys to drain off accumulated poison. If an operation is decided on, Dr. Charles Mayo, of Rochester, will personally perform it. What makes the operation dangerous in Mrs. Harding's case, it was explained, is her weakened condition due to prolonger illness.

The lowest official temparature recorded was 30 at Duluth, Warsaw and Moorhead. At Moorhead there was a light rain. The temperature dropped to 42 in St. Paul last night.

Low point at Brainerd Sunday night was 34.

DRY HOT WEATHER REDUCES CORN AND POTATO CROP HERE

MINNESOTA CORN CROP IS LOWERED 7,000,000 BUSHELS, REPORTED

FORECASTED POTATO CROP SUFFERS DIMINUTION OF 3,000,000 BUSHELS

(By United Press.)

St. Paul, Sept. 11.—Dry hot weather of the last four weeks reduced the estimated corn crop in Minnesota by 7,000,000 bushels, and cut the forecasted potato crop nearly 3,000,000 bushels.

At the same time increases were shown in forecasted production of spring wheat, oats, barley and flax.

While the drought brought huge decreases in the production of corn and potatoes, the yield of potatoes will be larger than last year, but corn will be 28,000,000 less than last year.

The September crop report of Paul H. Kirk, Minnesota statistician, expresses no alarm over the decreased production.

Due to the continued dry weather during August, the condition of corn on September 1 was 75 per cent of normal, compared with 83 per cent on August 1.

The report states the forecast production is 112,027,000 bushels, compared with 140,507,000 bushels in 1921, and a five year average of 106,664,000 bushels.

The early crop of potatoes will be very much better than in 1921 by the condition on September 1 which is 72 per cent or normal, indicating a production of 38,105,000 bushels compared with 27,525,000 bushels last year, and a five year average of 29,000,000 bushels.

The condition of spring wheat is 80 per cent of normal, indicating a production of 32,629,000 bushels compared with 23,655,000 bushels last year, and a five year average of 42,281,000 bushels.

Based on a condition of 89 per cent, the forecast production was 142,015,000 bushels of oats, indicating Minnesota will produce one of her best crops. The 1921 final estimate was 94,176,000 bushels, while the five year average was 116,950,000 bushels.

The condition of barley is 86 per cent of normal, indicating the crop of 23,240,000 bushels compared with 17,720,000 bushels in 1921, and a five year average of 27,901,000 bushels.

Buckwheat was hurt by the dry weather, and the condition is 72 per cent of normal, indicating a crop of 468,000,000 bushels, only slightly better than last year.

The flax crop will be above the average, the condition being 80 per cent of normal, indicating a crop of 2,904,000 bushels compared with 2,726,000 bushels last year and an average for five years of 2,450,000 bushels.

EDISON OFFERS CONGRESS PLAN OF BILL MAKING

(By United Press.)

Washington, Sept. 9—Thomas A. Edison, inventive genius of the century, has offered a "scientific bill-making plan" to congress.

This was learned by the publication of Edison's testimony on the Muscle Shoals, Ala., power and nitrate projects, bfeore the senate agricultural committee.

"I worked in Washington during the war," the aged inventor told the committee. "I found out after a while that a lot of those fellows that were running the details of this government were false; they were not the real thing; they were counterfeits.

"I am surprised that you don't draw your bills differently," he continued. "Draw up a skeleton of your bill and specify the initial thing you have to do, and when that is done you will find out what the first step costs.

"Now, go ahead and continue it on by supplement, so you will know the progress of all your legislation and make them show up between each supplement. You would have saved five or six billion dollars here and you would not have got a lot of these inefficient people.

"It comes in sections and each time they come for more money you make an amendment to the act. Let them have it, but they have to show up.

"Under the war administration nobody had to show up. You will have it showed up by and by.

"You should always pass a bill that contains just the rudiments of the entire bill," Edison urged, "then you have the first start, the instrumentalities you start with to make that thing function, and spend several million dollars.

"When you have got through the first stage let them come to congress and get the additional legislation to go ahead a little further, and when you have got through an examination of what has been done you will know if there is anything rotten in that, because you will see how all the money has been spent.

"But the way you do it now you make the bill and quit and never hear anything, and you try to get some information and you don't get any at all. They double-cross you all the time."

EXHIBITS RIFLE; SHOOTS SISTER

Mrs. C. W. Greenwood, of Wadena, was brought to the Northwestern hospital Monday afternoon suffering from a bullet wound through her head. The accident was the result of carelessness on the part of Mrs. Greenwood's brother who was showing her a German rifle, a trophy which he picked up while in the army overseas. The gun was accidently discharged, with the above results. The extent of the injury is not known at this writing.

EDISON OFFERS CONGRESS PLAN OF BILL MAKING

(By United Press.)

Washington, Sept. 9—Thomas A Edison, inventive genius of the century, has offered a "scientific bill-making plan" to congress.

This was learned by the publication of Edison's testimony on the Muscle Shoals, Ala., power and nitrate projects, bfeore the senate agricultural committee.

"I worked in Washington during the war," the aged inventor told the committee. "I found out after a while that a lot of those fellows that were running the details of this government were false; they were not the real thing; they were counterfeits.

"I am surprised that you don't draw your bills differently," he continued. "Draw up a skeleton of your bill and specify the initial thing you have to do, and when that is done you will find out what the first step costs.

"Now, go ahead and continue it on by supplement, so you will know the progress of all your legislation and make them show up between each supplement. You would have saved five or six billion dollars here and you would not have got a lot of these inefficient people.

"It comes in sections and each time they come for more money you make an amendment to the act. Let them have it, but they have to show up.

"Under the war administration nobody had to show up. You will have it showed up by and by.

"You should always pass a bill that contains just the rudiments of the entire bill," Edison urged, "then you have the first start, the instrumentalities you start with to make that thing function, and spend several million dollars.

"When you have got through the first stage let them come to congress and get the additional legislation to go ahead a little further, and when you have got through an examination of what has been done you will know if there is anything rotten in that, because you will see how all the money has been spent.

"But the way you do it now you make the bill and quit and never hear anything, and you try to get some information and you don't get any at all. They double-cross you all the time."

COUNTY FAIR OPENS THURSDAY MORNING

From Keen Interest Shown Throughout the County, Record Breaking Attendance Anticipated

ADD MANY FREE ATTRACTIONS

Carnival Show Cancelled Its Date, to Be Succeeded by Ball Game and Other Entertainment

The Crow Wing county fair opens Thursday morning and the keen interest that has been manifest throughout the county bespeaks a record breaking number of exhibits, and a record breaking crowd in attendance.

Of utmost importance to fairgoers is the fact that the George Morrison carnival shows which had been booked for the three days of the fair, have been cancelled, and a number of extra free attractions and a big ball game have been substituted instead.

The directors of the fair are to be commended for this change. A number of complaints have come in on account of the bad atmosphere which usually attends a carnival outfit, and the omitting of that part of the program and putting in its place several added free attractions and two clean ball games will be appreciated by every person planning to attend, and will undoubtedly mean that many will now go to the fair who otherwise would have stayed away had the carnival company kept their booking.

Friday will be "Brainerd Day" and the Brainerd Municipal band will furnish music for the various free attractions. The seats in the new grandstand are clean and comfortable and all of the free acts, including the big radio programs can be seen and heard therefrom.

Saturday is "Range Day" and the business men of Crosby and Ironton will make this a holiday and bring their band and attend in large numbers. The range people can be depended upon to make their day at the fair a big one.

The poultry shows alone will be worth the price of admission. The secretary, O. J. Bouma, has been in touch with the state farm school authorities and expects to be able to secure exceptionally competent judges for this department.

Mr. Peck of the state agricultural college has promised the following judges in the different exhibits: Livestock, Phflip Jordan; Farm Produce, E. W. Anderson; Women's work, Miss Rollefson. A great many entries in all of these departments have already been made, and competition will be very strong.

On Thursday noon a delegation from St. Paul headed by L. C. Hodgson, better known as "Larry Ho", former mayor of the Saintly City and George N. Briggs, political writer for the St. Paul Pioneer Press and Dispatch, and Jesse Foote, Comptroller of St. Paul, will arrive in Brainerd, and will go on to Pequot Friday, where Mr. Hodgson will speak at the fair in the afternoon.

Word has just been received from E. P. Scallon, of Corsby, that the Crosby baseball team has consented to cross bats with the Pequot team on Range Day, Saturday, September 16th, which will add much to the fair program for that day.

Finest Bell Chimes in World at West Point, Says American Founder

New York, Sept. 9—Man made bells before he learned to write, says Clinton H. Meneely, veteran American bell founder, in the September Mentor Magazine. These first bells were vessels of clay, which gave off a pleasing resonance when struck.

Aboriginal people used bells as ornaments. Moses, Isaiah and the prophet Zachariar mention the use of bells as anklets on the feet of women, as yokes for horses, and in temples. The Greeks decked their triumphal chariots with bells. The Romans used them to call the citizens to temple and forum. Paulinus of Nola, an Italian bishop, first used bells in Christian worship. About 400 A. D.—shortly after the time of Paulinus—church towers became general in Europe. Two hundred years later a papal bull specified that every church should have a bell.

The curfew bell, the angelus bell, and the passing bell are part of bell practice and tradiion. The ringing of bells ushered in the French Revolution. The great bell of St. Mark's Venice, and others, equally famous, were alarums.

Bells are designed according to mathematical law. Chinese bells are frequently square; Japanese and Korean barrel-shaped and Italian bells "long waisted." American and English bells are made of two metals only, copper and tin. Silver does not sweeten the tone of a bell, as is popularly believed.

A bell's tone is affected not only by its metallic composition, but by its shape and proportions. The voice of a bell is really a chorus of voices. Vibrations from bells are powerful. Muleteers in the Alps muffle the small bells around the mule's neck, lest the vibrations start snow slides.

The largest bell ever cast is the "Tsar Kolokol," made to the order of the Empress Elizabeth of Russia in 1733. A million dollars' worth of gold and jewelry was thrown into the molten metal by zealous subjects. A huge piece was broken from the side when the tower supporting it was burned. The bell now stands near the Kremlin wall in Moscow. The next largest bells are in China. One, in Pekin, weighs 120,000 pounds and is twelve feet in diameter

The Liberty Bell in Independence Hall, Philadelphia, is the best-known bell in the United States. The finest chime, a number of contrasting bells, is at the U. S. Military Academy at West Point. It has been pronounced the best-toned by musicians and bell makers.

U. record for the 440 yard swim. Miss Ederle made the quarter mile in 6:00 1-5 minutes, finishing with a lead of a good dozen yards over Miss Helen Wainwright, generally considered as America's all around womah swimming champion; who in turn led Hilda James, English girl champion of Europe, by at least ten yards.

Front Porch Campaign

St. Paul, Sept. 11—Democrats will upset precedent tomorrow in opening the state campaign on the "front porch" of Edward Indrehus farm in Benton county.

Tradition holds that political campaigns shall receive their initial impetus through a meeting in a large center of population.

Edward Indrehus, Democratic nominee for governor, however, will deliver his keynote speech tomorrow from his own doorstep. Silas Bryan, candidate for lieutenant governor, will also launch his campaign.

Anna Dickie Olesen, first woman nominee for the United States senate, and John Lind, former governor, will occupy seats of honor on the Indrehus porch.

Delegations from all sections of the state are expected to attend the meeting at the Indrehus farm. Farmers from Benton and adjacent counties have been advised of the meeting and the neighboring county has been placarded "all roads lead to Benton county next Tuesday."

Over-Estimated Spud Crop

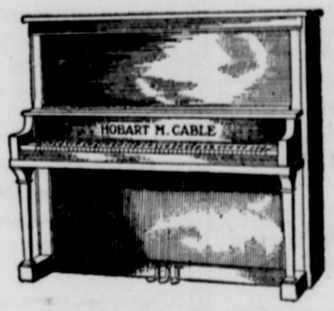

Moorhead, Minn., Sept. 11—Over-estimation of potato crop yields by the government was a big factor in bringing down the price, A. P Probstfield, manager of the Northern Potato Growers Sales company here declared. The government estimate in the Red River Valley alone was twenty million bushels too high, Probstfield declares. First carloads sold this year by the company brought 87 to 90 cents a bushel less than last year.

Preparations are being made to contest the will of Park Benjamin, prominent New York lawyer, by which he cut off his five children with one dollar each and left the bulk of his $500,000 estate to Anna Bolchi Benjamin, adopted daughter. Benjamin asserted that his children lacked in filial devotation. The photograph shows two of the Benjamin children, Mrs. Dorothy Benjamin Caruso, widow of the famous tenor (at right) and Mrs. F. W. Goddard.

RAILROAD STRIKE SETTLEMENT

IT IS to be hoped that the railroads, whose treatment of their employes in the past has been such that these may expect favorable terms in the present and future, in conference with the leaders of the striking shopmen will be able to work out a set of conditions which are equitable and carry the assurance of permanent peace.

The longer the strike lasts the more evident it becomes that the presidents of some of the eastern railroads are determined to win the struggle by compelling their employes to return to work on the terms set by the Railroad Labor board, minus those privileges of seniority and pension which they had won through long years of effort previous to this disagreement. These railroad heads claim—and not without justification—that their roads have not been seriously affected by the strike and that they can operate with their present forces while they build up new organizations to replace the strikers. They reason that by refusing to concede the demands of the unions they will keep their employes out until pressure of circumstances compels them to return on the terms the railroads offer.

But this has not been the position of many of the western railroads, whose officers have sought more than once to bring the strike to an end on terms favorable to their employes. In this part of the country the strike would have been ended long ago if Mr. Jewell had been willing to allow a sectional agreement. But this he refused to do. And present indications point to his refusal as a strategic mistake. Certainly if its intent was to force the eastern managements to come into line in accepting labor's terms it has failed in its purpose.

A rumor is abroad that the new method to be employed will be that of seeking to secure settlements from cretain competitive railroads which, with their regular mechanical forces at work, will offer such competition to other roads traversing the same territory that these will soon be forced to seek a settlement. Such seems to be a logical conclusion, and if the strikers can force the issue in this way, which will result in employment for thousands of their number, and at the same time force the hands of those managers who wish to fight it to an end, they will be following the course dictated by intelligence. Wise leadership does not always keep all of its forces fighting against the allied enemy; it sometimes seek a separate peace by which certain forces may be released to provide the sinews of war.

And if the leaders of the strikers secure favorable terms from the managements of some of the railroads and release the strikers from their pledge to stay out until a national agreement is reached, they will have the public with them, and the pressure of the competition of the railroads whose men have returned to repair the worn-out equipment, together with public opinion, will soon compel the others to come to a satisfactory agreement.

However, this does not cover the problem arising from the "hard-boiled" attitude of the president of the Pennsylvania railroad. How is the president of this road, whose attitude to labor and the labor board had more to do with precipitating the strike than a dozen of the other roads taken together, to be led or compelled to make terms with the strikers? After refusing to abide by the rulings of the labor board in many cases, after securing an order from the courts prohibiting the labor board from publishing these violations, and after rejecting President Harding's terms which the strikers accepted, we cannot quite see what will bring such management to the place where it will see that the United States is more important than even the Pennsylvania railroad system.

But there is one thing that even the Pennsylvania cannot permanently combat, and that is public opinion. And if the leaders of the strikers make a separate peace with certain competitive roads, the pressure of competition will force others to come to a settlement, and when an increasing number of these have ended the conflict, public opinion will see to it that even the arbitrary and labor-board-decision-flouting Pennsylvania changes its policy. Some may think that this would be a case of the leopard changing its spots. Not quite. For even the president of the Pennsylvania is a man, and the public can change a man's attitude by persuasion or compulsion even if a leopard cannot change its spots.

There seems to be real hope of a settlement of the strike by securing a separate peace with certain railroads whose attitude to labor is usually reasonable. By such a method Germany was weakened and the general armistice hastened.

SENATE COMMITTEE IN CROW WING COUNTY

THE Chamber of Commerce will see to it that the senate committee of which Senator Mike Boylan, of Virginia, is chairman, which is coming to Brainerd on Thursday to look over the marl deposit in Crow Wing county, is given every assistance in making its investigation. If the committee finds that the county offers with its marl a suitable and accessible clay deposit, a cement plant may be built in this county at a cost of four to five million dollars which would employ over 1,000 men.

Analysis of the marl deposit in this county shows it to contain over 90 per cent, and in some cases almost 100 per cent of lime. This proves that the deposit cannot be surpassed in purity and as it is abundant, if other conditions are favorable, Crow Wing county ought to have this plant.

In seeking a location for an enterprise of this kind the committee will be governed by what it finds and will not be influenced by political or other influences, but as there is always a great deal of pressure brought to bear upon such a committee, Brainerd's citizens will be neglecting their duty if they fail to direct the attention of the committee to the advantages to be derived by the state from locating a plant in this most central of all locations where marl is abundant and pure. If Crow Wing county has the best materials and location it ought to have the industry. And it is equally true that if other counties can offer something better this state enterprise ought to go there.

THE papers are carrying instructions on how to save fuel. Read them and follow them. By this means the operators may be beaten at their own game.

EARLY SEEDING MAKES FOR BETTER YIELDS

Experience has shown that winter rye and winter wheat yields are increased by early sowing.

"In the northern part of the state sowing the last week in August or the first week in September gives better stands and better yields than later sedings," says A. C. Anry of the division of farm crops and farm management, University of Minnesota. "In the central and southern parts of the state," he adds, "seeding may be made up to Sept. 15 to 20 under conditions favorable for germination and growth with as good results as early seedings. Winter grains sown the latter part of September and during October may be expected to yield considerably less per acre than seedings made at the proper time.

"With good, clean, well graded seed available, 84 pounds of winter rye or 90 pounds of winter wheat per acre are sufficient."

UNIVERSITY OWNED JERSEY COW BREAKS ALL RECORDS

All state butterfat production records for all ages of the Jersey breed have been smashed by Trill Pogis of Lilly Dale, 367637, owned by the University of Minnesota at University Farm, who on Aug. 24 at the age of five years and nine months produced 929.14 pounds of butterfat and and 17,319.5 pounds of milk in 365 days. This was equivalent to 1,093.1 pounds of butter. Her milk averaged 5.38 per cent fat.

The former state all-ages Jersey record was held by Pride L'Tacq 371346 who produced 887.15 pounds of butterfat or 1,043.7 pounds of butter in one year.

At the age of 3 years and 11 months Trill Pogis established a new state three year old butterfat record of 582.04 pounds or 684.75 pounds of 85 per cent butter. She still holds the record. Her milk for that year totalled 12,159.6 pounds. She was sired by Pogis 99th of Hood Farm 8th 119068. Her dam was Trilly Ferm of Lilly Dale 279350.

"U" SOON TO BUILD TWO HOME MANAGEMENT HOUSES

Construction in September of two new home management houses on the University Farm campus at a cost of $10,000 each will give the university the distinction of being the first American educational institution to build such structures of its own.

The home management idea, adopted to provide women students in home economics with actual practice in home management and child care was originated at the University of Minnesot by Miss Mildred Weighley, chief of the division of home economics. It has now been adopted by leading home economics departments all over the country.

The houses, which will accomodate seven students, an instructor and laboratory child, will probably be completed by January 1.

MINNESOTA LEADS IN CLUB APPROPRIATIONS

The steadily growing importance of boys' and girls' club work is indicated by the fact reported by the National Committee on Boys' and Girls' Club Work, that three-fourths of a million dollars in prize money is being offered by the club juniors this year and duplicated by the states to conduct the work.

This large sum of money is provided by fair associations, livestock and breed associations, manufacturers, bankers and their associations, packers, farm bureaus, county commissioners and many other individuals and combinations of individuals.

Wonderful support is given to local and county contests in Minnesota. T. A. Erickson, state club leader, estimates that the average appropriation of the 80 county fairs in the state is $350, or a total of $28,000. This is almost double the sum provided in New York state and is $8,000 more than the combined appropriations of the great state of Texas.

DAIRY SHORT COURSES AT UNIVERSITY FARM

The annual dairy short course season will open at University Farm on Nov. 13 and continue with only occasional interruptions until March 10. Five courses will be given, in addition to a state-wide creamery manager conference which will be held at the farm Jan. 4. In their chronological order the courses are as follows: Advanced Creamery Operators, Nov. 13 to 25; Ice Cream Plant Operators, Nov. 27 to Dec. 2; Milk Plant Operators, Dec. 4 to 9; Creamery Operators, Jan. 1 to Feb. 10, and Cheese Plant Operators, Feb. 12 to March 10.

The courses have been planned to help the student in acquiring a better understanding of the problems and tasks connected with the manufacture of dairy products in order that he may qualify for positions of highest responsibility in the work. At least six students must register for a course or the university will cancel it.

EXTENSION CONFERENCE CALLED FOR NOV. 20 AND 21

POTATO BINS NEED THOROUGH CLEANING

"Clean your potato bins," is the advice of R. C. Rose, plant pest specialist with the agricultural extension service at University Farm, who finds losses from dry rot in unclean bins to run as high as 50 per cent.

Digging and handling should be done as carefully as possible, he states in order to avoid bruises through which the dry rot fungus enters the tuber. Before being filled with the new crop all bins should be thoroughly sprayed or swabbed on walls, floors and ceilings with a solution of one pound of copper sulphate to 10 gallons of water or of formaldehyde in the proportion of one pint to 10 gallons of water. The bins should be well aired and dried out before the potatoes are placed in them.

From 35 to 40 degrees is advised by Mr. Rose as the best storage temperature as rots spread more slowly and normal shrinkage is less. Large quantities of warm potatoes should not be placed in a cool cellar, as the air becomes heavily charged with moisture and the tubers will heat. It is a good plan to leave the potatoes out of doors overnight and bring them into storage in the morning before they are heated by day temperatures.

Potatoes require limited amount of air which should be provided by an intake opening at the bottom of the bins, otherwise moisture collecting on the surface of the bins will result in too much humidity. Storage cellars should have ventilators in the roof for the removal of warm air and moisture. These can be regulated by stuffing them with hay or straw.

Note—Mr. Rose is a Brainerd boy who attended local schools and then with his parents removed to St. Paul where he attended the University of Minnesota.

RAILROAD STRIKE SETTLEMENT

IT IS to be hoped that the railroads, whose treatment of their employes in the past has been such that these may expect favorable terms in the present and future, in conference with the leaders of the striking shopmen will be able to work out a set of conditions which are equitable and carry the assurance of permanent peace.

The longer the strike lasts the more evident it becomes that the presidents of some of the eastern railroads are determined to win the struggle by compelling their employes to return to work on the terms set by the Railroad Labor board, minus those privileges of seniority and pension which they had won through long years of effort previous to this disagreement. These railroad heads claim—and not without justification—that their roads have not been seriously affected by the strike and that they can operate with their present forces while they build up new organizations to replace the strikers. They reason that by refusing to concede the demands of the unions they will keep their employes out until pressure of circumstances compels them to return on the terms the railroads offer.

But this has not been the position of many of the western railroads, whose officers have sought more than once to bring the strike to an end on terms favorable to their employes. In this part of the country the strike would have been ended long ago if Mr. Jewell had been willing to allow a sectional agreement. But this he refused to do. And present indications point to his refusal as a strategic mistake. Certainly if its intent was to force the eastern managements to come into line in accepting labor's terms it has failed in its purpose.

A rumor is abroad that the new method to be employed will be that of seeking to secure settlements from cretain competitive railroads which, with their regular mechanical forces at work, will offer such competition to other roads traversing the same territory that these will soon be forced to seek a settlement. Such seems to be a logical conclusion, and if the strikers can force the issue in this way, which will result in employment for thousands of their number, and at the same time force the hands of those managers who wish to fight it to an end, they will be following the course dictated by intelligence. Wise leadership does not always keep all of its forces fighting against the allied enemy; it sometimes seek a separate peace by which certain forces may be released to provide the sinews of war.

And if the leaders of the strikers secure favorable terms from the managements of some of the railroads and release the strikers from their pledge to stay out until a national agreement is reached, they will have the public with them, and the pressure of the competition of the railroads whose men have returned to repair the worn-out equipment, together with public opinion, will soon compel the others to come to a satisfactory agreement.

However, this does not cover the problem arising from the "hard-boiled" attitude of the president of the Pennsylvania railroad. How is the president of this road, whose attitude to labor and the labor board had more to do with precipitating the strike than a dozen of the other roads taken together, to be led or compelled to make terms with the strikers? After refusing to abide by the rulings of the labor board in many cases, after securing an order from the courts prohibiting the labor board from publishing these violations, and after rejecting President Harding's terms which the strikers accepted, we cannot quite see what will bring such management to the place where it will see that the United States is more important than even the Pennsylvania railroad system.

But there is one thing that even the Pennsylvania cannot permanently combat, and that is public opinion. And if the leaders of the strikers make a separate peace with certain competitive roads, the pressure of competition will force others to come to a settlement, and when an increasing number of these have ended the conflict, public opinion will see to it that even the arbitrary and labor-board-decision-flouting Pennsylvania changes its policy. Some may think that this would be a case of the leopard changing its spots. Not quite. For even the president of the Pennsylvania is a man, and the public can change a man's attitude by persuasion or compulsion even if a leopard cannot change its spots.

There seems to be real hope of a settlement of the strike by securing a separate peace with certain railroads whose attitude to labor is usually reasonable. By such a method Germany was weakened and the general armistice hastened.

Miss Blanche Baer Has Her Hip Badly Fractured in Two Places

THOS. WALSH INTERNALLY HURT

Car Skidded Into Ditch, Turned Turtle, Pinning Ocupants Down Over an Hour

Two young people are confined in a local hospital as the result of an automobile accident which occurred four miles south of town on the 13th street road about eight o'clock Sunday morning.

Thomas J. Walsh, a fireman on the Northern Pacific and a partner in the Walsh & Anderson billiard parlors, was bringing Miss Blanche Baer into the city from her home fifteen miles south of Brainerd.

It is stated that Mr. Walsh tried to turn out for a wagon which was going in the same direction, but on the wrong side of the road, and in order to pass it, he was obliged to turn out on the wrong side also, but in so doing the car skidded into the ditch, turning turtle and pinning the occupants beneath.

They are pinned under the car for over an hour before help arrived, and it took seven men to get the overturned car off and the prisoners out.

At the St. Joseph hospital it was found that Miss Baer had her hip fractured in two places and Mr. Walsh sustained internal injuries, the extent of which have not been determined.

The automobile had one wheel torn off and the top wrecked, but otherwise very little damage was done to it. It is now at the Herbert Peterson garage on Norwood street.

Ed Anderson, salesman for The John Wahl Candy Co., claims the record for mileage covered in one day.

Mr. Anderson left Brainerd Thursday morning, drove his Case car to Duluth and returned to Brainerd the same day, working seven towns on his territory enroute, and spending several hours in the lake port.

Arthur L. Koop, of the Brainerd State bank, purchased a valuable water spaniel last spring, with the intention of making good use of him during the coming hunting season.

Nelson set the broken member, and now Rowdy is carrying it in a sling fastened up over his shoulders. He handles it as well as anyone could, but he will not be able to do much hunting this year, as his doctor tells him that it will take from a month to six weeks for the bone to knit.

In the meantime, he is hobbling about the yard, a much dejected dog. Mr. Koop is going of a hunting lodge in which ingof a hunting lodge in which he is interested north of Outing, so there will probably be some shooting done regardless of poor Rowdy's hishaps.

WORLD SERIES MAY START OCTOBER 3

By HENRY L. FARRELL
United Press Sports Editor

New York, Sept. 11.—John McGraw won three pennants in a row with the New York Giants in 1911, 1912 and 1913. Since then no National League club has been able to finish first twice in succession.

After the Giants had run up their three championships, the pennant started traveling and went to Boston, Philadelphia, Brooklyn, back to New York, Chicago, Cincinnati, Brooklyn and back again to New York.

* * * * * * * * *

In the American League, the pennant has also been wandering. The Boston Red Sox won in 1915 and 1916, and then Chicago, Boston, Chicago, Cleveland and New York won.

* * * * * * * * *

St. Louis and Washington are the only cities around the big time circuit that have never won a pennant. St. Louis was a big noise in the old American Association, when championships were won in 1885, 1886, 1887 and 1888.

* * * * * * * * *

New York and Chicago are the only cities that have had two pennant winners in the same season. The Cubs and the White Sox had a private world's series in 1906 and the Giants and the Yanks had one last fall.

* * * * * * * * *

If the Giants and the Yanks should repeat this year it will be the first time that one city won two pennants in successive years and if both St. Louis should happen to turn in a double winner, it will be the first time different cities won two pennants in successive seasons.

* * * * * * * * *

The world's series this fall reverts back to a seven-game proposition, four out of seven winning. Until something definite is established in the two pennant races, no arrangements can be made. The season closes on October 1, and if both New York clubs should win the series will probably start on October 3 and be played right through. If either New York clubs wins, the series most likely will start in New York on the same day.

* * * * * * * * *

In 1920 the late Jim Dunn, then owner of the Cleveland Indians, won the toss and chose to open the series with Brooklyn in Cleveland, but he later discovered that he couldn't get his park ready on such short notice and he allowed Brooklyn to open the championship.

* * * * * * * * *

If New York and St. Louis should win the pennants, the series probably will be arranged so that only one trip will be necessary between the two cities.

* * * * * * * * *

It might be decided on a toss to have four played in one city and three in another. In 1920 Cleveland and Brooklyn agreed to play three games in each city and return to Brooklyn for the seventh game if necessary, but it wasn't necessary.

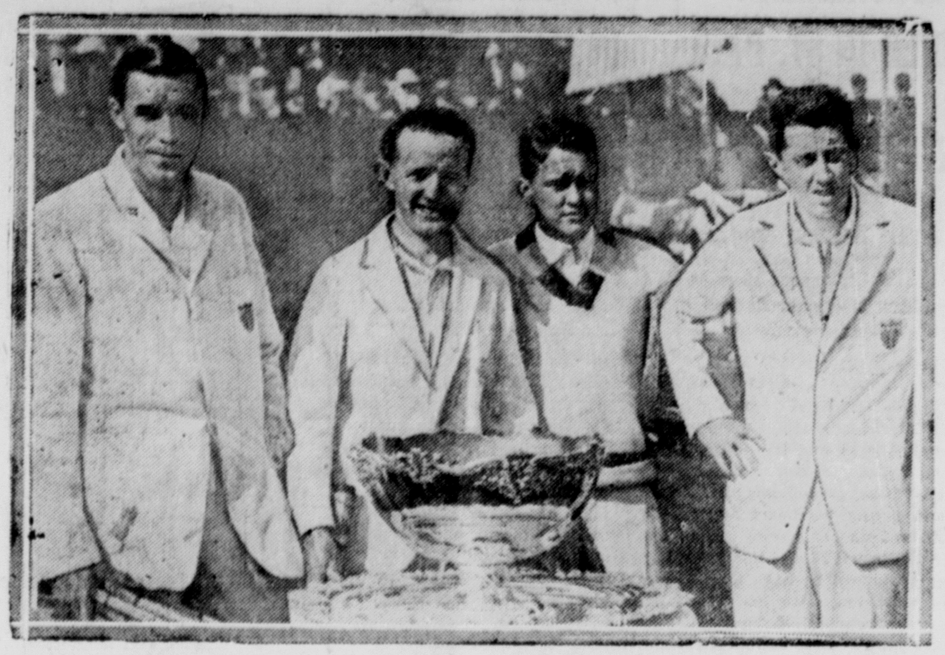

"A Virgin Paradise"

"A Virgin Paradise," a story of the jungle and of civilized hypocrisy written by Hiram Percy Maxim and produced as a super special by William Fox, will be shown at the Lyceum theatre beginning tonight. The picture created a sensation on Broadday, New York, by its scenic magnificence, spectacular effects and powerful emotional appeal. The scenes include the destruction of the entire population of a South Sea island by a volcanic eruption, with the exception of an infant girl, daughter of a missionary, and her native nurse, and the burning of a palatial country place on Long Island.

The girl, Gratia Latham, grows to young womanhood in a half savage state on the island, with lions, apes and other wild animals as her only companions after the death of her nurse. She is discovered by a searching party in a steamer after she has fallen heir to a fortune of $10,000,000,and taken to the estate on Long Island. There she finds it difficult to adjust her character and manners to the expectations and desires of her relatives, and impossible to fall in with the plan of a young man of the family to marry her for her millions. Her manner of repelling his unwelcome attentions is in keeping with her half savage upbringing.

The sensational photodrama is presented by an all-star company directed by J. Searle Dawley, with Pearl White, famous for her vigorous acting in serials, in the role of Gratia.

HALF MILLION TO AID NEEDY FARMERS

(By United Press.)

Washington, Sept. 9—Senator Harreld, of Oklahoma, today introduced a bill authorizing the secretary of the treasury to advance $500,000 in 1923 to farmers in "poor crop areas" of the country to buy seed wheat.

The loans to individual farmers are limited to $300 under the terms of the measure.

OFFERS $100 MONTH FOR LIFE TO SICK WOMAN

Mrs. Edith Huntington Spreckels Wakefield, first wife of the late "Jack" Spreckels, California millionaire and herself prominent in San Francisco society has, it is reported, offered to "buy" another woman's husband from her for $100 a month for the rest of her life. The husband whom Mrs. Wakefield is credited with having offered to buy is Rodney Kendrick, a newspaper artist. The wife who is ill and admits "considering the offer" said she had already given her wedding ring to Mrs. Wakefield.

Tractors Increase Farm Yield 25%

A RECENT report from a large number of Kansas farmers shows that they were able to plow an average of 2 inches deeper with tractors than with horses. Those who kept records claimed that this deeper plowing resulted in an increased yield per acre of 25%.

Power—petroleum power—is revolutionizing agriculture. Henry Ford says: "In the tractor, truck, automobile, and stationary gas engine—we have facilities that make farming enjoyable, profitable and worth while. Of all modern machines the tractor is one of the greatest blessings that has been devised for mankind. Fields cultivated by tractor-drawn plows produce more than fields turned by horse-drawn ones. Tractors make deeper plowing and sub-soiling possible. This, in turn, enables the ground to renew itself instead of gradually wearing out."

The Standard Oil Company (Indiana) appreciates the value of the tractor on the farm, and realizing that the use of the tractor is now in its infancy, is preparing to meet the resulting demand for gasoline; for highly specialized lubricants and other petroleum products needful to successful power-farming.

When the power-farmer needs petroleum products his need is urgent and the entire community is interested in seeing that these needs are supplied promptly.

One of the most vital services rendered by the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) is that of assuring the farmer at all times a constant, dependable supply of high quality petroleum products.

This Company is able to guarantee such a supply because of its modern, constantly expanding manufacturing and distributing facilities, its efficient organization and its knowledge of markets and economic conditions.

These are conditions under which great expansion, coupled with high centralization are indispensable to the performance of a service essential alike to the farmer and the general public.

SQUIRE EDGEGATE —A New Line of Argument

WORLD SERIES MAY START OCTOBER 3

By HENRY L. FARRELL
United Press Sports Editor

New York, Sept. 11.—John McGraw won three pennants in a row with the New York Giants in 1911, 1912 and 1913. Since then no National League club has been able to finish first twice in succession.

After the Giants had run up their three championships, the pennant started traveling and went to Boston, Philadelphia, Brooklyn, back to New York, Chicago, Cincinnati, Brooklyn and back again to New York.

* * * * * * * * *

In the American League, the pennant has also been wandering. The Boston Red Sox won in 1915 and 1916, and then Chicago, Boston, Chicago, Cleveland and New York won.

* * * * * * * * *

St. Louis and Washington are the only cities around the big time circuit that have never won a pennant. St. Louis was a big noise in the old American Association, when championships were won in 1885, 1886, 1887 and 1888.

* * * * * * * * *

New York and Chicago are the only cities that have had two pennant winners in the same season. The Cubs and the White Sox had a private world's series in 1906 and the Giants and the Yanks had one last fall.

* * * * * * * * *

If the Giants and the Yanks should repeat this year it will be the first time that one city won two pennants in successive years and if both St. Louis should happen to turn in a double winner, it will be the first time different cities won two pennants in successive seasons.
